We present exciting opportunities when Norway will now press the big export button. You will meet representatives of small and large export companies. What worked and what did not work? What advantages does Norway have, which can contribute to driving the green transition? And what opportunities lie precisely here? Learn what the policy instruments can contribute, and hear the Minister of Trade and Industry's plan for us to achieve the goal of increasing Norwegian exports by 50 per cent by 2030.

We will award the Export Prize for 2021.
