Invitation

Living in the age of COVID-19 means adapting to a 'new normal' and preparing for what's to come next. At present, we are witnessing unprecedented socio-economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic affecting diverse sectors including acceleration of digital transformation and reorganization of industries around the world.

The STEPI International Symposium will focus on STI responding COVID-19 era and digital transformation, aiming to seek ways to innovate Korea's STI policy by exploring new opportunities and challenges as well as policies of other countries.

The event will be held remotely and we look forward to meeting you online at the symposium.

Dr. Hwang Hee Cho President, STEPI
